June 24, 2022

Dear Senators:

Thank you for your letter of June 16, 2022, concerning the Digital Licensee Coordinator’s (“DLC”) ex parte communication with the Copyright Office (“Office”) seeking regulatory action with respect to certain reporting deadlines under the Music Modernization Act (“MMA”). As your letter notes, the DLC’s request was made in anticipation of the Copyright Royalty Judges’ (“CRJs”) forthcoming determination in the Phonorecords III remand proceeding, which is expected to set rates and terms for the Section 115 license for the period from January 1, 2018 through December 31, 2022. We appreciate your interest and concern, and I am writing to report the current status of our review of this request.

As you know, the MMA invested the Office with “broad regulatory authority”¹ to “conduct such proceedings and adopt such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of [the MMA pertaining to the new blanket license].”² Additionally, Congress directed the Office to promulgate several regulations to govern the new blanket licensing regime, including reporting requirements for digital music providers (“DMPs”).³ To carry out Congress’s wishes, the Office engaged in a robust multiyear rulemaking process, involving several rounds of public comments.

³ Id. § 115(d)(4)(A).

With respect to the DMP reporting requirements at issue, the Office issued a notification of inquiry and notice of proposed rulemaking before adopting an interim rule in September 2020. The Office also engaged in ex parte communications with stakeholders pursuant to guidelines adopted to facilitate further discussion with interested parties on discrete issues in an open and transparent manner. In recognition of the significant legal changes brought by the MMA, the Office adopted the rule on DMP reporting on an interim basis to maintain flexibility to make necessary modifications in response to new evidence, unforeseen issues, or where something is otherwise not functioning as intended.

It is in this context that the DLC made its request. After meeting with the DLC, the Office has made itself available for other stakeholders to present their views. We have already held an ex parte meeting with the National Music Publishers' Association, and another meeting is currently scheduled with several organizations representing songwriter interests. If any other stakeholders wish to contact us through our ex parte process, we would be happy to speak with them as well.

Like all matters entrusted to the Office by Congress, we take our stewardship of the MMA and general oversight of the blanket licensing regime seriously. When we receive a request such as the one from the DLC, we carefully consider all views expressed and evaluate the issues objectively based on the record, including how any action may affect the relevant stakeholders and their competing equities. Please be assured that the Office will apply this high level of care and attention in evaluating the DLC's pending request. As this is an active and ongoing proceeding and the CRJs have not yet issued their determination in the Phonorecords III remand proceeding, it is premature for the Office to have reached any conclusions on the merits. For example, we do not know how drastically or minimally the CRJs may alter the rate structure or associated terms or definitions. The Office intends to engage further with stakeholders after the CRJs' initial determination is issued so that our decision-making can benefit from a more concrete record.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information.

Sincerely,
